Woodland is committed to providing excellence in camper programming and also educating campers about the importance of mission projects around the world. We integrate chapel programs, mission activity periods, and mission offerings to reach our goal of education and funding a specific project. This year, the camp will be working with Living Water International to dig a well from the funds received from our mission offerings. Parents can help prepare campers for this part of their experience by talking to their children/teens about the importance of clean water in the world. Parents can also encourage their youth to save allowances or even raise funds from friends, Sunday School Classes, and family to give during our offering times.

Goals have been set to raise $10,000
during our Summer
Camp Programs.

Living Water International will actually set up a well system for the campers to see this summer at Woodland. This is one of the finest mission organizations in the world that focuses on water projects. Living Water International exists to demonstrate the love of God by helping communities acquire desperately needed clean water, and to experience “living water”—the gospel of Jesus Christ—which alone satisfies the deepest thirst. They train, consult, and equip local people to implement solutions in their own countries. Mission offerings will be taken up during the camp week and at the closing program. Gifts will be used by LWI to dig a water well in the name of the 2010 Woodland Campers to help a deprived community acquire safe, clean water.
